DETROIT'S TEAM OUTPLAYED AT ALL POINTS-RECORDS OF THE CLUBS. The New-York and Detroit nines played their second ame of baseball at the Polo Grounds yesterday. The local team won, and, strange as it may seem after its recent poor work, actually won through good playing and not through the errors of its opponents. Just 2,257 people were present. Keefe pitched with telling effect throughout, and the two runs scored by Detroit were due more largely to errors by Connor and Richardson than to basehits made by the visiting players. The Detroit players have reputation as avy batters, yet ten of them struck out be Keefe's strategic pitching. Brown supported Keefe in good style, in fact all the New-York players showed re interest and life in their work than usual. The only drawback to the sport was the deliberate move-This caused the game to last ments of the pitchers. longer than it should have done.

Getzein started to pitch for Detroit but was injuin the hand in the second inning and was forced to retire, Gruber taking his place. Getzein tried to stop a lively ground hit from O'Rourke's bat. There is no danger of Titcomb being injured in this manner. D. Richardson, Connor and Rowe did the best work at the

The New-Yorkers were put ont as they went to the bat in the opening inning, while the visiting players were also put out without a run. In the second inning the Detroit players scored one run and took the lead. Twitchell made a hit and got to second on Hanlon's out at first. An error by D. Richardson advanced Twitchell to third and another blunder by New-York's econd baseman allowed Twitchell to cross the home plate. An error by Rowe was mainly responsible for the one run scored by the Giants in the fourth inning. D. Richardson got to first on an error by Rowe, and a hit by Conner sent him to third. O'Rourke hit safe to centre field and Richardson scored.

In the fifth inning the Detroit men scored one re run. Ganzell got to first on an error by Connor, and got to second on a hit by Sutcliffe. He got to third on a wild throw by Brown and scored on a wild pitch. In the following inning the home players scored two earned runs and took the lead. D. Richrdson made a hit to right field and scored on a home run hit over the ropes in left field by Connor. York got another run in the eighth inning and in-creased its lead. D. Richardson led off with a threebase hit to left field and scored on O'Rourke's long fly to Hanlon. The score was:

DISHONEST RAILWAY EMPLOYES.

John J. Ward, of No. 392 Seventeenth-st., Brooklyn, a conductor employed by the Atlantic Avenue Company, and Henry C. Dubols, of No. 184 Twenty-third-st., a starter at the Long Island Depot for the same company, were charged before Police Justice Massey yesterday with defrauding the company by means of transfer tickets which Dubois turned over to Ward, and the latter gave to the company in place of cash fares, which he pocketed and divided with Dubois. Two other conductors were in the scheme, which has been worked for four months, and a net profit of $10 or $12 a week was realized from thirty to sixty tickets a day being used. Detection resulted from differences in the number of tickets turned in. Ward and Dubois were held for trial in $1,000 ball cach.

MORE TESTIMONY AGAINST DUNN,

THE PROSECUTION WILL REST ITS CASE TO DAY -MOVING TO DISMISS THE COMPLAINT. Additional evidence for the prosecution in the trial of John R. Dunn, the lawyer, for grand larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer before Justice Barrett and a jury, was presented yesterday in the tes timony of Mrs. Lizzie Scott, wife of the absconding teller of the bank of the Manhattan Company. said she was married to Scott sixteen years ago, and had known Dunn since her childhood. cousin. The witness first heard of her husband's flight on June 2, 1885, the day after his departure. Two weeks later she heard from him by letter. She weeks later she heard from bim by letter. told of numerous interviews which she had had with the prisoner, in which he told her that if her husband had taken his advice he would have taken more money from the bank, and in which he claimed an equal interest in what had been taken. She identified a letter written by her to Dupn, in which she told him that as he had stopped a proposed compromise with the bank, she wished he would retain the amount of the stolen money which he thought he ought to have, and give her and her husband the rest.

Mrs. Jennie A. Scarles, sister of Mrs. Scott, testified that the latter lived with her in her apartments in the Strathmore after the flight of Scott. The witness told of interviews which she had had with Dunn before and after his visit to Scott in England, and of he anxiety to have a compromise with the bank, which Dunn constantly opposed. She identified a letter from Dunn, dated February 6, 1887, in which he told her he had lost the money entrusted to him by Scott in grain speculations. In the letter he promised to give her a full statement of the transactions, but he never did so. She told him there must be something and finally he gave her $881, which she gave to Mrs.

Scott. William Cross, a stock broker and brother of Mrs. Scott, testified that he told Dunn that he did not be lieve his story about losing the money in grain speculations. He demanded every cent of the $140,000 which had been left with Dunn by Scoil. His object was to return every cent of it to the bank. Assistant District-Attorney Parker announced that after the examination of one more witness this merning the prosecution would rest. On a motion to dismiss the complaint, made by the defendant's counsel, Justice Barrett reserved his decision until this morning.

COLONEL FELLOWS STILL DEFIANT.

HE DID NOT MAKE AN EXPLANATION TO JUDGE BARRETT-AT WORK ON THE BELATED CASES. District-Attorney Pellows was at his office at an early hour yesterday morning, and remained in or near throughout the day. He did not make any attempt to see Justice Barrett, and did not send any explanation to him of the failure to press the work of investigation before the special Grand Jury. Mr. Fellows said that the Grand Jury would now be fully occupied with the consideration of the Aldermen's cases and election matters. He presented some of his remarks. election matters. He repeated some of his remarks of the evening before, and said that he should continue to conduct cases in his own way, however the newspapers thought they should be conducted. cellows intimated that no other of the bribery cases of 1884 would be tried before the fall.

Judge Barrett was seer by a "Tribune" reporter resterday, and asked concerning the statement of District-Attorney Fellows that there was an understanding between them that the District-Attorney would be away ten or twelve days on his trip to the St. Louis Judge Barrett said that, though he did not want to raise a controversy, as the maiter was new settled and ample help was on hand to represent the District-Attorney's office, he had no understanding that days, but on the contrary, that he expected him back immediatelly after the Convention adjourned. thought it rather strange," he continued, "that the District-Attorney should call a special Grand Jury to consider important cases and then take that time for a vacation; and further, I expected, of course, that while he was away he would leave the public business in such shape that the county would not be under the expense of holding court without accomplishing any-thing. It is true Mr. Parker was here to represent the District-Attorney's office, but one man was simply physically incapable of being in two or three places at the same time, and consequently could not attend to all the details in such important cases. According to the strict terms of the law, the District-Attorney is obliged to attend the Court of Oyer and Terminer; but of course his deputies are allowed to represent

TO TEST THE LIQUOR LAW IN JERSEY CITY.

The preliminary steps to test the constitutionality of the new liquor law in Hudson County, N. J., were taken yesterday. The Jersey City Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night granted a license to John Hart to keep a restaurant at No. 620 Jersey-ave., at the minimum rate required by law. Mr. Hart is the secretary of the Hudson County Liquor Dealers' Association. He called at the city clerk's office yesterday accompanied by Henry Lembeck, president of the association, and ex-Governor Leon Abbett, their counsel. Mr. Hart demanded his license and tendered to City Clerk Scott $50 for it. That is the amount fixed by the ordinance under which licenses have been granted heretofore. Mr. Scott refused the $50, saying that the minimum price fixed by law was $200 and Mr. Hart went off without the license. Governor Abbett will at once make application to the courts for an order to show cause why a mandamus should not issue requiring the city to accept $50 for a license. It is expected that this will make a test case of the constitutionality of the law.

There she was accosted by a young man, apparently about eighteen years old. five feet five inches high, and well dressed, who said his name was Donnelly, that he lived in Hamilton-st. and that he was on his way to Sayreville, and asked the girl to give him a ride part of the way.

Minnie Hauck, the young woman who attempted to kill herself by taking a dose of morphine on Monday night because Fireman Verese would not marry her, is missing. She was not to be found anywhere on saturday night. Justice Vaughn issued a warrant for her arrest on Tuesday for attempted sulcide. The warrant was given to Officer Brennan yesterday, but he could not find her. The body found on the beach at Far Rockaway on Tuesday has been identified as that of Edward Nugent, forty-four years of age, a clerk, and brother of Keeper Nugent, of Blackwell's Island. He lived at Thirdave, and Twenty-eighth-st., New-York City. An autopsy showed that death was caused by drowning. In the Court of Oyer and Terminer for Queens County, Justice Edgar McCullen presiding, Rafail Tete, an Italian laborer, was placed on trial yesterday for the killing of Henry lirown, an Irish laborer, at Port Washington, L. THR JURY WILL GET THE CASE TO-DAY. THE DISS DEBAR DEFENCE FINISHES PUTTING IN EVIDENCE. The Diss Debar conspiracy case will go to the jury to-day, the prosecution and the defence having both put in the tag-ends of their evidence and rested yes-

Jacob Davis was called for the defence. He is a man of sixty-seven years, lives in Erooklyn and is in the internal revenue service. He said that Madame Diss Debar got him this message on a closed slate: "Darling papa: I'm ever with you, and I want mamma to see me in all the beauty of my womanhood.

I shall materialize for you and you shall see me with my five year-old face. Minute." Minnie, the witness explained, was a daughter who died in childhood. Mr. Dos Passos, in cross-examination:

What would you say if the people should prove to ou that what is written on your slate is in the emale defendant's own handwriting? A.-I should hat the people are fools.
-What did you pay for the message? A.-Five Giraid George Washington Van Horn, a spiritual seer, whose business is to describe the spools of his patrons' dead friends, began to give some disparaging widence about J. W. Randolph's character, but Mr Davis interfered in his witness's behalf. Cross, formerly judge of the Court of Common Pleas in Cincinnati, testified to having been present when Madame Diss Debar made pictures come. On crossexamination he admitted that he had known mediums to practise fraud. John D. Townsend, the senior ounsel for the defence, took the stand to testify that Madame Diss Debar voluntarily returned Mr. Marsh's property. Mr. Dos Passos cross-examined him, and found that the medium had told him nothing about the "Council of Ten."

The defence unexpectedly rested here. George C. The defence unexpectedly rested here. George C. T. Salomon was recalled for the people and denied that he had ever called his sister a fraud or demanded $1,000 from her. Mrs. Diss Debar was re-examined about her children. She refused to tell where she got her adopted daughter Alice. D. N. Carvalho, an expert in handwriting, testified that the slate writing, St. Peter's epistle to Luther R. Marsh, 2nd Mrs. Diss Debar's letters were all apparently written by the same person. Mr. Townsend subjected the expert to some severe tests and he only failed in one out of half a dozen or more.

Berlowitz had gone to Canada and it vas not expected he would return, but he appeared as a witness. He said Bernstein compelled him to give a check for $2,000 and another for $3,039, which were not accounted for. THE WELSERACH

INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER. Will consume the ordinary illuminating gas in such a way as to make the electric light look positively reliew. It will produce a given amount of light with less than one-half the gas used in the ordinary burner.

It produces perfect combustion, not a particle of soot or smoke is given off, and there is but little vitiation of the air of a room.
It is an extremely steady light; no flickering; delightfulto read or work by.
It gives off only about one-third the heat of ordinary burners.

It requires no change in brackets or chandeliers—simply anscrew the old burner and screw on the WELNERACH.

It will save its cost in six months, burning on an average four hours per day.

It can be used with the Springfield or any other gas machine—in fact it can be used with any kind of vapor or gas that will produce heat in combustion. This wonderful system of lighting is now on exhibition from 3 to 10 p. m. at this office.
